

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

5            Dive computers and methods of logging information including position, audio and video information are disclosed. In one embodiment, the invention includes a processor, a global positioning system receiver connected to the processor and a pressure transducer connected to the processor.

10

15

20

25

30

35